

Eastern Illinois University
School of Technology Position Announcement
Non-Tenure Track in
Master of Science in Technology

The School of Technology at Eastern Illinois University invites applications for a non-tenure track instructor position starting in January 2022, subject to available funding. A minimum of Master's degree in a Technology field or a closely-related field is required, with preference to applicants who have industrial or teaching experience.

Eastern Illinois University (EIU) is a comprehensive state university in a community of 20,000 in east central Illinois. Enrollment at the university is approximately 7,000 and growing. As a primarily undergraduate teaching institution, EIU is dedicated to quality learning in small class settings. The School of Technology has undergraduate programs in Computer and Information Technology, Organizational Leadership, Digital Media, Construction Management, and Engineering Technology and the Master of Science in Technology. This faculty will be appointed as a member in the School of Technology, which seeks a highly-motivated team player to assist the growth of these programs.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching graduate core courses and support one or more of the undergraduate fields. A typical workload per semester will include 3-4 courses in classroom/laboratory. In addition, mentoring undergraduate and graduate students in computer technology related research, and contributing to the ABET accreditation process are expected. Commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence is required.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants must submit a letter of application (cover letter), statement of teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, undergraduate and graduate transcripts, and names of three references (with whom you have collaborated within last 5 years) with contact information via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/96068>. For questions regarding this search, please contact Dr. David Wayne Melton, Search Committee Chair, at dwmelton@eiu.edu.
