

Department of Pharmacology at University of Illinois at Chicago, which rank top 10 amongst all Pharmacology Department in US, is seeking for a well-trained Visiting Research Specialist with experience in bioinformatics. Duties to include: • Perform assessment of inflammatory signaling. • Determine protein-protein interaction regulated by STIM1 using immunoprecipitation. • Western blotting to assess activation of kinases. • Purify constructs • Analyze data • Write results.

Bachelor's degree in science or related field required. Master's degree in science preferred. A minimum of 3 years related research experience is required. For fullest consideration, apply at the link:

<https://jobs.uic.edu/job-board/job-details?jobID=152785>

As an EOE/AA employer, the University of Illinois encourages applications from individuals regardless of an applicant's race, color, religion, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, and Veteran or disability status. The University of Illinois conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of contingent offer of employment. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act. The University of Illinois System requires candidates selected for hire to disclose any documented finding of sexual misconduct or sexual harassment and to authorize inquiries to current and former employers regarding findings of sexual misconduct or sexual harassment. For more information, visit

<https://www.hr.uillinois.edu/cms/One.aspx?portalId=4292&pageId=1411899>