About the University of Illinois at Chicago

UIC is among the nation's preeminent urban public research universities, a Carnegie RU/VH research institution, and the largest university in Chicago. UIC serves over 34,000 students, comprising one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation and is designated as a Minority Serving Institution (MSI), an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPSI) and a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI). Through its 16 colleges, UIC produces nationally and internationally recognized multidisciplinary academic programs in concert with civic, corporate and community partners worldwide, including a full complement of health sciences colleges. By emphasizing cutting-edge and transformational research along with a commitment to the success of all students, UIC embodies the dynamic, vibrant and engaged urban university. Recent "Best Colleges" rankings published by U.S. News & World Report, found UIC climbed up in its rankings among top public schools in the nation and among all national universities. UIC has nearly 260,000 alumni, and is one of the largest employers in the city of Chicago.

Description:

The College of Business Administration is seeking to hire one or more tenured or tenure-track faculty member(s) (assistant, associate, or full professor) in Strategic Management to begin August 2023.

UIC Business is the largest provider of undergraduate business education in Chicago. Our undergraduate business program has been ranked #1 in Chicago by U.S. News. We also have full-time, flexible, and online MBA programs as well as five Ph.D. programs (Accounting, Business Statistics, Management Information Systems, Marketing, and Organizational Behavior/Human Resources). UIC Business is AACSB accredited with more than 4,500 students. UIC Business was ranked on the UTD 100 Ranking of North American Business Schools over the most recent 5-year period (2017-2021). The Managerial Studies Department consists of three research-oriented faculty groups: Strategy/Organization Theory, Organizational Behavior and Human Resources (OBHR), and Entrepreneurship. Faculty in the Strategy/Organization Theory research area includes Shelley Brickson, Conor Callahan, Felipe Calvano (joining in August 2022), Jocelyn Leitzinger, Anthony Pagano, Susan Perkins, Steve Sauerwald, Mark Shanley, and Mary Beth Watson-Manheim (Department Head). Our group has published in Administrative Science Quarterly, Academy of Management Journal, Academy of Management Review, Strategic Management Journal, Organization Science, Journal of International Business Studies, and Journal of Management, among other high-quality journals. In 2021, we ranked #29 (out of 150 US public business schools) in terms of research productivity on the TAMUGA Ranking of Management Departments.

Qualifications:

To be considered for this position, applicants should be scholars in the field of strategy as reflected in publications in highly regarded scientific journals, including Academy of Management Journal, Academy of Management Review, Administrative Science Quarterly, Journal of Management, and Strategic Management Journal. Requirements include an earned doctorate in management or a related discipline (or expected by June 1, 2023), research publications commensurate with rank, and evidence of teaching excellence and commitment to service. Salary will be competitive with leading public research universities.

This position will encompass research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, service to the department, college and university, and outreach to the business communities.

A Ph.D. completed or near completion, and strong potential for quality research and teaching is expected. Faculty at the Associate and Full Professor level must have a Ph.D. and an excellent record of scholarly research activity and teaching consistent with a senior-level faculty appointment.

For fullest consideration, please apply by August 4, 2022. Please attach all required documents: (1) a cover letter that provides a summary of research program and description of teaching interests, (2) vita, (3) teaching evaluations, and (4) names and contact information for at least three references.
